Summer Session Opens June 20

Edgecliff will open its 1955 summer session of classes on June 20 and end on July 29. Registration will be held on June 16 from 8:00 to 12:00 noon. There are 51 courses offered in the fields of Art, Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Education, English, German, History, Latin, Mathematics, Music, Natural Science, Philosophy, Political Science, Physical Education, Religion, Sociology and Speech.

These regulations concerning attendance at summer classes have been published: general assembly will be held each Wednesday at 11:00 a.m. Attendance at this exercise is required of all students; no student may carry more than six credits without permission of the Dean.

Donors Contribute To Memorial Fund

At their recent state meeting in Marion, Ohio, the Ohio State Circle of the Daughters of Isabella voted unanimously to contribute $1,000 to the Monsignor Gauche Memorial Scholarship Fund.

In sending their contribution, the members expressed happiness at being able to participate in the building of this fund in the honor of their state chaplain, who was "a sincere friend and wise counselor."

The graduating class of 1955 presented its gift to the college in the form of a donation to the Fund. Theirs was the last class Monsignor Gauche taught at Edgecliff.

The Monsignor Gauche Memorial Scholarship Fund was recently established at Edgecliff at the suggestion of members of the lay faculty. The growth of the fund has been constant and anyone interested in making a contribution to it should address it to the Monsignor Gauche Memorial Scholarship Fund Committee at Our Lady of Cincinnati college.

Edgecliff Presents Tribute To Father Stritch During Silver Jubilee Celebration

Edgecliff honored the Rev. Alfred G. Stritch at the celebration of the Silver Jubilee of his ordination May 31. Assisting the jubilarian in his celebration of Solemn High Mass in the college chapel were the Rev. John Dillon, deacon, the Rev. Joseph Urbain, sub-deacon, fellow appointees of Father Stritch to the original Edgecliff faculty in 1935. Msgr. Martin T. Molloy delivered the sermon. The Choral group sang the Mass after which breakfast was served for the celebrant, members of his immediate family, faculty and the student body.

Immediately following breakfast, a program was presented by the students. Betty Gellenbeck, president of the Student Council, introduced the program which featured the recitation of a poem by Jeanne Favret and two selections, Waltz of the Flowers by Tchaikowsky and the College Hymn by the Choral Group. Dorothea Brodbeck presented Father with a gift from the student body. A tribute from the Mothers Club was given by Mrs. Joseph Cloud. The alumnae also paid honor to Father Stritch at their annual Homecoming Banquet May 29.

The jubilarian was born in Springfield, attended Campion college, Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, St. Gregory's and Mt. St. Mary Seminary of the West. He was ordained in June of 1930.

Father Stritch completed his studies for his higher degrees in history and political science at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. and at the University of Cincinnati.

Among the parishes at which Father Stritch has been stationed are Blessed Sacrament, St. Catherine's and St. Thomas More in Withamsville, Ohio. For ten years he was chaplain for the cloistered Dominican sisters at Holy Name Monastery. Father Stritch has held teaching assignments ments at Elder High School and the Archdiocesan Teachers College. At the present time he is on the faculty at St. Gregory's Seminary and has been there since 1934. He has been on the faculty of Our Lady of Cincinnati since its beginning in 1935. He has also served as regional chaplain for the National Federation of Catholic College Students since 1947, and has written for various historical publications.

Beginning with the academic year 1955-56, the Music department will increase its offerings to include work leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in Music. This brings the number of major subjects offered at Our Lady of Cincinnati college up to 21.

at 5:30 Sunday evening at the outdoor pavillion.

May 30, Class Day, was highlighted by the reading of the class history and the unveiling of the class picture. This picture will mark the twentieth to be hung in the Administration building. The unveiling was followed by the daisy chain ceremony, in which the graduates presented to the junior class the daisy chain, formally declaring their new position as seniors in the college. At this time the tassel of each student's academic cap was turned to show her advance in class standing.

As the members of each class before them had done, the seniors of 1955 then planted a rose bush as their final tribute to the college. At 5:30 they were honored at a Garden Party given by the sophomore class. Following this the annual Candlelight ceremony took place at dusk in the rear of Emery Hall. The passing of the candle, which symbolizes the light of learning, from Betty Gellenbeck to Mary Catherine Hughes, the incoming president of the Student Council, ended this year's Class Day ceremonies.

50 Graduates Receive Diplomas Tonight From Archbishop Alter

Our Lady of Cincinnati college held its twentieth annual commencement exercises on the college campus tonight, Wed., June 1 at 7:00 p.m. The Most Rev. Karl J. Alter, D.D. conferred the degrees and honors upon the 50 graduates who were presented by the Rev. Alfred G. Stritch, M.A., chairman of the History department and head of the Division of Social Sciences of the college. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert J. Sherry, S.T.L., J.C.D., Rector of St. Gregory's Seminary, delivered the commencement address. Monsignor Sherry delivered the first commencement address at Our Lady of Cincinnati college in June, 1936.

Commencement Address

In the commencement address, Monsignor Sherry pointed out that Our Lady of Cincinnati college for the past twenty years has imparted to its graduates a mental and moral sureness that can be exercised to uplift the men of the present generation. "Women," he said, "have always been regarded as the conscience of the race." The testimony of tradition and history show their prominent position. He urged the graduates not to be dismayed at the task before them because God has need of "only a few generous souls" in each age of history to direct the current of thought and action back to their foundations in truth and purity.

The speaker emphasized the great responsibility of Christian leadership placed on Catholic college graduates. They form a force that should be relied upon to bring back popular taste from "reckless disregard to healthy minded enthusiasm; to the common sense of right living through right thinking; to an appreciation, if not of heroic sanctity, at least of the natural virtues; a consciousness of personal dignity and a reverence for that of others; to an admiration and a striving for the high things of life."

In conclusion he declared that the humblest woman is able to wield an influence far greater than she thinks. In a quiet, unpretentious way she can champion the things that have a ring of truth and solidity about them and so determine the course of many lives.

First Education Degrees

For the first time in the history of the college, the Bachelor of Science in Education degree was awarded. The following six students fulfilled the requirements for this degree: Philomena Picciano, Marie Rapien, Sister M. Lambert, R.S.M., Sister M. Nativitas, R.S.M., Sister M. Roderic, R.S.M. and Sister M. Timothea, R.S.M. The Bachelor of Arts degree was awarded to 32 students. Seven students received the Bachelor of Science degree and five received the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree.

Honor Students

The seven students who received their degrees with honors were: Sister M. Andrew Hellman, O.S.B., cum laude; Sister M. Timothea O'Neill, R.S.M., cum laude; Sister M. Lutgarde Ginzinger, R.S.M., cum laude; Sister M. Phyllis Meyer, R.S.M., cum laude; Mary Corinne LaVallee, cum laude; Elizabeth Gellenbeck, cum laude; and Helen Overbeck, cum laude.

State Provisional Teaching Certificates were awarded to Elizabeth Hauck, Marilyn Meunchen, Elizabeth Moran, Marilyn Pavely, Philomena Picciano and Marilyn Thaman.

The Catholic Press Key in Journalism was received by Eleanor Nicholas and Elizabeth Gellenbeck. The George Edward McDonald Christian Art Award was given to Dorothea Brodbeck.

Mary Corinne LaVallee, Elizabeth Gellenbeck and Helen Overbeck were elected by vote of the faculty to membership in Kappa Gamma Pi, the national Catholic honorary society.

Alumnae Sponsors Expansion Plan

In an open letter which appeared in the 1954 Alumnae News, Anne Henglebrook Ratterman '46 asked why the Alumnae association of Our Lady of Cincinnati college did not have an expansion fund as do other colleges and universities. In response to this plea, Miriam Stautberg Splain '44, president of the association, organized a fund raising committee with Betty Kiernan '45, chairman. Serving with them are Jean Fisher Splain (Continued on Page 5)

Commencement Week Climax To Academic Year; Activities Include Mass, Class Day, Candlelight

Commencement week activities began this year with baccalaureate services on Sun., May 29, with a High Mass celebrated by the Rev. Martin D. Garry, O.P., who also delivered the baccalaureate sermon. The seniors were then honored at the fifth annual Homecoming Banquet of the Alumnae associ-

Following the Senior Mass, May 17, the seniors and the Rev. Martin Garry were feted at a breakfast prepared by the Home Economics department in Emery Ballroom. The freshmen also honored their big sisters at a luncheon at the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel, May 28.

Now It's Our Turn

This last month has been dotted with farewell parties for you, the graduating class of 1955. The cause of these festivities is not, however, a general rejoicing over your departure. To the contrary, it is with an honest feeling of regret that we say goodbye. The prom, breakfast, garden party, luncheon, are our way of saying that we have appreciated knowing you.

We are grateful for your leadership, your example, your friendship—for the part each of you has played in the education we have and shall receive. The truths you have learned, the ideals you have formed are now ours to fulfill in our role as Catholic women. Although we say farewell, a part of yourselves remains with us—the rich heritage of all that Edgecliff means and symbolizes.

Word To The Wise

When classes are completed, when the answer is written to that last examination question, when we breathe that first sigh of relief—then we realize that another year in college has been completed. It has been filled with trials and errors, along with numerous joys and satisfactions.

What we have gained from this year can be measured only by what we have put into it. Nothing is gained without some work and sorrow. As we look back over the year's record, we, better than anyone else, will be able to recognize our shortcomings. Looking ahead we see a summer filled with fun and relaxation for most. Some will have part-time work, others will have study, but we all will have time for a bit of gaiety, too.

Freed from the somewhat supervised cultivation of good spiritual habits, we are thrust on our own for a few months. Now is the time when we must remember that we are students of a Catholic college and that our words and actions should be evidence of this fact. In so doing we will not have to fear the loss of anything for which our education stands.

Did You Know That . . . the first prom queen was not only president of every campus club, but was also the only senior (1935) . . .

. . . eight proms were held in Emery Hall and one was even held in the auditorium . . .

. . . The Edgecliff has a circulation of close to 1300. . .

. . . five seniors, Elaine Duwel, Roberta Eckert, Marian Fox, Eleanor Nicholas and Helen Overbeck, have sisters who have graduated before them from Our Lady of Cincinnati. According to tradition, they assisted their younger sisters when they received their academic hoods at commencement tonight. . .

. . . Patricia Morrissey and Mary Catherine Hughes spent Sat., May 21 with children from Mexico, Nicaragua and British Honduras visiting Cincinnati under the Children's International Summer Village plan.

. . . the new officers of the Mothers Club are: Mrs. Richard Pfau, president; Mrs. Paul Crary, vice-president; Mrs. Peter Pitstick, secretary; Mrs. Earl Winter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Franz Trefzger, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Cloud, auditor; and Mrs. Harry Kemper, registrar.

Sympathy is extended by the students and faculty to Helen Mae Federle Sherman '49 on the death of her mother.

Artists Muster Might To Paint Terrible Tommy—Campus Cat

by Irmgard Hartmann '57

"Stop that cat!"

"Don't let him get away!!!"

A flash of yellow fur followed by two pursuing figures dashed by this reporter, who could only hold on to the banister or be carried away in the ensuing maelstrom.

After I had partially recovered my wits, the hunters returned, a crest-fallen look on their faces.

"What on earth is going on here?" I managed to stammer.

Barbara Finn and Sister Marie Montfort, two aspiring artists, wailed in unison, "We're trying to paint that cat, Tommy." (For uninformed readers, Tommy is the campus mascot, an Angora cat usually housed at Emery.)

"It doesn't look as if he exactly enjoys having his portrait painted," I sagely remarked.

"That's putting it mildly," rejoined Sister Marie Montfort, who then proceeded to recount the number of harrowing experiences that several members of Sister M. Rosine's oil painting class have had since they first attempted to put their impressions of Tommy on canvas.

Carol O'Brien and Mary Jane Huber lasted only through the sketching stage, whence they retired to painting more tame objects, as various campus pines and the Ohio river. Barbara and Sister, two hardier souls, complain of having had to acquire an intricate knowledge of mountain climbing, steeple chasing, track running, hide-and-seek, and devious methods of coddling in order to coax the wily feline into the Art Studio. "After that, we're exhausted and Tommy easily escapes through the nearest exit."

A victim of lacerations from Tommy's claws, Barbara claims that Tommy is a lovable creature at heart. "But, only as long as the chicken liver sausage lasts," she wistfully adds.

"What are you planning to do with these paintings of a cat you can't get to pose for you?" I queried.

"Do with them? Sister Mary Virginia is going to hang one in her private office," answered Sister Marie Montfort, not without a tinge of pride.

"Well, good luck," I answered dubiously, as I peered through the artistic haze on their half-finished canvases. "But I don't think you will finish them this year."

"Oh, never fear," they chorused, "we will return next year—with armor."

The Shifting Scene

By Alice Dammarell '58

June has always been the month of Commencement and this year is no exception. Here at Edgecliff the class of '55 will greet the world and its members who will shape their lives on the events that will take place. June is also a month of great excitement and remembering. So let us pause a moment to remember the events of the past year that caused excitement and the commencement of outstanding political careers and movements throughout the world. Russia rocked the international scene earlier this year with the announcement of Malenkov's resignation and Bulganin's appointment as premier of the Soviet Union. That was on Feb. 8, 1955. This June finds the new premier in the midst of a newly launched economy policy which he claims will have "long and far reaching effects."

Churchill Bows Out

England's Sir Winston Churchill withdrew from office in favor of Anthony Eden and his following in April of this year causing much speculation over the coming British elections. Whether the Conservatives or Laborites gain control of Parliament is yet unknown but new and interesting voices have already begun to appear on Hyde Park Square.

France deposed Mendes-France and placed Edgar Faure at the helm recently in an attempt to strengthen political power and economy. However, it is rumored that Mendes-France does not intend to stay out of the picture and that the next vote of confidence might bring him back into focus. At any rate another clash is predicted for unstable France and thus new promises are on the horizon.

Austria was declared free for the first time in 15 years in May of this year. The entire homeland and its war prisoners were returned to the Austrian state in Moscow where Chancellor Julius Raab and Russian ministers signed the now historic Austro-Russian Peace Treaty of 1955. Many real concessions were made by Russia in this treaty. The biggest, of course, was the agreement that all occupation troops be withdrawn from Austria by Dec. 31, 1955. This, however, still must be carried out.

Pakistan Has Troubles Too

Pakistan, one of the world's most populous nations, was thrown into legal chaos this year when the federal court system was found faulty. This June finds the country still unsettled and shaky in many legal aspects. A new court system is in the process of compilation.

South Viet Nam expelled Bo Dai and declared Ngo Dinh Diem Premier just before the first rains of the monsoon showered the war-torn country. The next few months will decide Diem's capability to lead the nation.

Argentina is now in the middle of rewriting her constitution in which religion has been excluded. President Juan Peron has "waged a successful war on the Catholic Church, and has temporarily barred all religious instruction in government-support-

The Book Beat

By Marilyn Meunchen '55

"No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent; a part of the main."

Thus from John Donne's famous passage Thomas Merton has taken the words for the title of his latest book, No Man Is An Island. This book has been called Thomas Merton's greatest work. Those who consider Seven Storey Mountain his masterpiece will disagree while those who prefer Seeds of Contemplation will accept the judgment. Merton terms Seeds of Contemplation a sequel to No Man Is An Island. Both books cause the reader to ponder and meditate.

Marilyn Meunchen

Theory of Human Love

The theme of his latest book is developed in 16 chapters. Some of these are: "Love Can Be Kept Only By Being Given Away"; "Conscience, Freedom and Prayer"; "The Word of the Cross"; "The Measure of Charity"; and "Silence." In the prologue the author outlines his position. The individual person is responsible for living his life. If he shirks the responsibility, he will never find out the meaning of his existence.

Merton's theory of human love is as practical as it is exalted. He feels that a happiness that is sought for ourselves alone can never be found. We must look outside ourselves because our destiny is to love one another as Christ has loved us.

As an example of the depth and wisdom of the book, he writes; "The relative perfection we must attain in this life if we are to live as sons of God is not the twenty-four day production of perfect acts of virtue, but a life from which practically all the obstacles to God's love have been removed or overcome."

Author is Trappist

Thomas Merton, who lives as a Trappist monk in Kentucky, has established himself as the Catholic literary voice of America. His words have gone forth to the ends of the land. He writes in a style which is concrete, colorful and easily understood. He is a gifted writer who has found the way to make spirituality readable for his generation. He has given his contemporaries a glimpse of what contemplation can mean in our time. Here is an honest man sincerely struggling with the problems of life. It is not unusual, therefore, that No Man Is An Island was chosen the Catholic Book Club Selection for April, 1955.

Suggestions For Summer Reading

Just in case you might be looking for some books to read in your leisure summer hours, here are a few suggestions: Bengtson's The Long Ships, Highet's Pray For a Brave Heart; Yourcenar's Hadrian's Memoirs; Lindbergh's Gift From the Sea; Forester's The Good Shepherds and John P. Marquand's Sincerely, Willis Wayde.

Eleanor Nicholas received the Catholic Scholastic Press Key in Journalism for her work as editor of THE EDGECLIFF.

Newly elected member of Kappa Gamma Pi is Betty Gellenbeck, cum laude. She received the Catholic Scholastic Key in Journalism for work as editor of the Literary Annual.

Members of the senior class of 1955 leave Emery for the last time in a body to take their places for the candlelight ceremony. Emery has been for them the scene of many college activities including luncheons, teas, dances and supper clubs.

On Stage

By Joy Smith '57

Lavish "Kismet" just sailed away on its magic carpet after a successful week's engagement at the Taft. Before arriving in Cincinnati, the Broadway musical spent 580 fabulous Arabian Nights at the Ziegfeld Theatre, New York, grossing $4,250,000.00. So you see—the sophisticated New Yorkers also enjoyed it.

This recent Broadway version climaxed a career which began 40 years ago. The story first appeared on Broadway in 1911, starring Otis Skinner. It has been filmed once in silent movie days and several times in sound. This last presentation is the first time the story has been set to music.

Joy Smith

Many hit parade favorites were heard again by local audiences—such popular songs as "Stranger in Paradise," "This Is My Beloved," "Baubles, Bangles, and Beads," and many others. The original Broadway company appeared, starring William Johnson as Hajj, the beggar, Julie Wilson as the princess and Elaine Malbin. All the wonders and extravaganzas of old Baghdad were brought to the Taft stage—a spectacular close for the Cincinnati season.

Speaking of the theatre season—in my opinion, it wasn't up to par. We had few really good plays and only two musicals. Cincy was, however, honored with two premieres of shows now on Broadway—The Dark Is Light Enough and Fragile Fox. So perhaps our fair city is coming up in the world and will be given a larger portion of good entertainment next year.

Cinerama Holiday Arrives

On June 23, Cinerama Holiday will arrive at the Capitol for an indefinite visit. Its predecessor This Is Cinerama has now played for 10 months—evidence of the popularity of this new medium. Techniques have been improved in Holiday, whose story concentrates on Sweden and America. It abounds in thrills such as the bobsled ride at St. Moritz, and in good entertainment provided by the Swedish ice shows. Many American scenes are pictured, such as Las Vegas, New Orleans, New Hampshire and even a visit to the Choral Group of Dartmouth college. But

I understand to appreciate this second edition of Cinerama it's necessary to see the first, now playing at the Capitol.

Summer Opera Opens

The Pajama Game (the touring company appeared here last month) has recently received the theatre's Antoinette Perry Award.

Eugene Conley will sing opposite Dorothy Kirsten in Tosca which opens the Summer Opera at the Zoo, Sat., June 25. A fine program has been planned with performances every evening except Monday and Tuesday. The season will run for 10 weeks. A wide variety of fine opera is presented every summer here in Cincinnati. It certainly behooves each and every one of us to get behind it and support it so that we can be assured of possessing such a privilege in future years.

The Artists Series has released notice of many of the attractions for next year. They include: Lily Pons; Michael Rabin; Shakespeare's Macbeth presented by the Canadian Shakespeare Players from Stratford, Ontario; the Scots Guard Band; the Ballet Theatre, and a host of others. Prospects for next year's season look good, do they not?

Alumnae Honor Class of 1955

Members of the Class of 1955 were welcomed into the Alumnae association at the fifth annual Homecoming Banquet on May 29 on the campus pavillion behind Emery Hall.

The Rev. Alfred Stritch, who is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination, was the guest of honor together with the classes of '40, '45 and '55. Ann Hengelbrook Rattermann '46, vice-president of the association, welcomed the honored groups.

Judy Thompson Olberding '54 was general chairman for the banquet. Serving with her were: Nancy Glaser '54 and Rosemarie Koehler '54, decorations; Dolores Donovan Hogan '54, entertainment and parodies; and Adele Gratsch '54, publicity. Co-editors for the Alumnae News were Phyllis Crusie '54 and Ann Seibert Bergmann '54.

Seniors Spend Final Student Days at Edgecliff

On their way to one of the many events honoring the new graduates, a group of seniors pause by the new Brennan Memorial Library. Theirs was the first graduating class to use this newest campus structure.

'47, Sally Thompson '47, Sally Silva '47, Rosemary Centner '47, Ruth Meyer '40, Mary Dammarell '54 and Jeanne Dossman '49.

Looking forward to a tremendous increase in enrollment, the committee foresees a need for additional equipment and buildings. They have put into operation a five year plan covering the years between 1955 and 1960, the silver anniversary of the college. Their goal is $25,000 for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Our Lady of Cincinnati college.

Annual May Day Ceremonies were held at Edgecliff Sunday afternoon, May 15. Pictured here are the Queen, Eleanor Nicholas, her court, and her attendants: Florence Janz, Marian Piller, Louise Thoma and Mary Ellen Blank.

Campus Clubs Elect Officers

Election of officers highlighted the final meetings of most of the clubs on campus. The policy of voting at the close of the academic year affords the new office holders an opportunity to develop during the summer an interesting and varied program for their particular group.

A new feature in club activities next year will be the addition of an NFCCS representative to each group directly affiliated with this organization. This representative will correspond with the regional and national commissions of the National Federation of Catholic College Students in order to exchange ideas for program activities.

One of the first clubs to elect its leaders for the 1955-56 school year was the International Relations club, which chose Joan Schoenhart as its president. Her fellow officers are Eileen O'Brien, vice-president; Mary Ellen Puthoff, treasurer; and Audrey Donahue, secretary. Irmgard Hartman was chosen to serve as the NFCCS representative for the club.

At its final meeting the Liturgy Commission inaugurated Dorothea Brodbeck as its new president. She will be assisted by Caryl Kemper as vice-president and NFCCS representative and Barbara Finn as secretary.

Hoping to lead the debaters in to numerous victories next year will be president, Gail Lonnenman. Sharing these successes will be Joan Gauche, vice-president; Alice Dammarell, secretary; and Frances Stavale, treasurer.

The Tri-Lingual club elected French major, Mary Jean Test, to serve as its president come next September. Mary Jean will be aided by Mary Ann Curtin as secretary and Julia Kuntz as treasurer. Sally Thompson was chosen French Program Chairman and Shirley LimSue, Spanish Program Chairman, with Cecilia Jones NFCCS representative.

After an eventful Play Day, the CSMC unit here on campus held its elections and elected Angela Pottebaum its new president. Helping her with the CSMC's many activities next year will be Ann Midden, vice-president; Marian Piller, secretary; and Peggy Rowe, treasurer. Catherine Guarin will act as NFCCS representative.

Members of the Choral club chose Marian Piller to be their new president. Marian was also selected to be president of the Music Club. Loretta Baker will serve as secretary-treasurer.

The Science club will have as its leading scientists Ruth Noll, president; Louise Thoma, vice-president; Irene Kursiss, secretary; and Marian Piller, treasurer.

Girls who have been elected to lead the Home Economics club are Doris Brichetto, president; Joan Van Lahr, vice-president. The other offices will be filled next year.

Director of the Edgecliff Players activities for the coming year is president, Jeanne Favret, Joan Oden, vice-president; Judy Disney, secretary; and Diane Marcaccio, treasurer.

The Red Cross chairman of the Edgecliff unit for the coming year will be Mary Ellen Puthoff.

Recent appointees as co-editors of the Literary Annual are Maureen Keating and Kathleen Grace. This was announced by Dr. Daniel Steible, editorial advisor and Miss Sally Thompson, faculty moderator. New Liturgy Guild officers are Ellen Dineen, president; Maureen Keating, secretary; and Thelma Gilkey, treasurer.

Council Presidents Change At Candlelight

Outgoing Student Council president, Betty Gellenbeck, passes the light of learning, symbolized by the candle, to Mary Catherine Hughes, her successor. This Candlelight ceremony was part of Class Day activities.

"The South shall rise again" next year on campus when four southern belles assume Student Council posts. Mary Catherine Hughes, a Sociology major from Knoxville, Tenn., will preside over the Student Council as president for the year 1955-56. Judy Disney, also from Knoxville, will guide the activities of the Sodality, while Ann Midden, from Cynthiana, Ky., serves as president of the Dormitory Council. Mary Elizabeth Nicholson, from Nashville, Tenn. will transfer her position as freshman class president to that of president of next year's sophomore class.

During the current school year Mary Catherine has acted as chairman of the campus Red Cross unit, secretary of the CSMC, treasurer of the Sociology club and associate editor of The Edgecliff. She was also her sophomore class representative to Student Council. Others assisting her on the Council next year will be: Margie Sebastiani, Mary Ellen Puthoff and Eileen O'Brien, senior class president and representatives; Marilyn Bowling, Mary Russo and Mary Ann Costello, junior class president and representatives; Mary Elizabeth Nicholson and Suzanne Schwartz sophomore class president and representatives.

Joan Gauche was elected to the post of NFCCS senior delegate by vote of the Student Council. She will be assisted by Alice Dammarell, who is the junior delegate.

Holy Spirit Forms Theme For Art Department Exhibition of Ceramics

On Pentecost Sunday the Art department sponsored a ceramics exhibit. From work done during the entire school year under the direction of Miss Clotilde Zanetta, each student selected two or three of her finest pieces.

Outstanding entries included modern free form pieces by Barbara Finn; portrait head of her brother and grandfather by Dorothea Brodbeck; a ceramic head of Mother Frances Schervier, foundress of the Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis, modeled by Sister Marie Montfort, SPSF; and wheel thrown pieces by other members of the class in ceramics. Wheel thrown pieces by other hand built pieces made during the evening class for adults were also featured.

The entire exhibit was set against a background appropriate for Pentecost Sunday portraying in symbols the seven gifts of the Holy Spirit. These were the work of the designing class under the direction of Judy Disney. The exhibit was judged by staff members of the Lucille Gerbig Porcelain and Ceramic Studios, Reading Road.

Margie Sebastiani Gains Scholarship

Margie Sebastiani, president of next year's senior class, has recently been awarded a scholarship to Laval university for additional French study during the summer session from June 27 to August 6.

She will arrive at Quebec for opening Mass and then face a battery of entrance tests designed to place her in a group of students with equal mastery of the French language. Her studies will include grammar, phonetics, diction, conversation, folk dancing and singing.

Margie will stay in the home of Madame Henri Matte while in Canada, and plans to take part in many excursions such as one to St. Anne de Beaupre and a day-long trip in the mountains.

Also attending Laval this summer are Jeanne Stenger from Mount St. Joseph and Jack Boehle from Xavier university. Other Edgecliff students who have attended these summer sessions are Nancy Glaser '54 and Mary LaVallee '55.

The Shifting Scene

ed schools," said one Argentine Minister of Education. "This," he goes on, "will begin to effect the children next year."

China spent the last year terrorizing the far East and building up her air force. She has threatened Formosa and been threatened herself until this June finds her glaring out at the island and biding her time for a war to come.

Germany's Chancellor, Konrad Adenauer, announced his intentions to resign not long ago. He would like to see his predecessor "safely in office next year." This implies a new set of higher German officials.

Yes, June is the month of Commencement. The men and new movements before the world, like the graduating Seniors, are just starting to grasp this month's significance.

Summer Days See Edgecliffites Abandon Studies for Vacations

by Dolores Miltz, '57

Vacation's here! I doubt if there's one of us that won't join its annual welcoming committee, though to some of us it means only a change of surroundings—from a desk in a classroom to one in an office. To others—well, let's take a look at where this summer will find some of our fortunate fellow Edgecliffites.

We see stars shining in the eyes of Elaine Stadtmiller, sophomore, and Joann Schneider, who works in the Finance office, at the prospect of a six-weeks European tour. They will leave New York on June 28, visit The Netherlands, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland and England, and will dock in New York on August 15. Joann is planning on an all-around good time, while Elaine is looking forward especially to the thrill of buying a hat in Paris.

Eileen McClorey's happy too, even though her summer won't take her so far away. She'll be working at Shillito's on the College Advisory Board, which is composed of college students from all over the country. Not only is the work enjoyable, but it's also a wonderful experience.

Many girls take advantage of the counseling jobs available at Fort Scott. Some of these "campers' mothers away from home" are: Agnes Cloud, Ellen Dineen, Judy Disney, Jeanne Favret, Betty Gellenbeck, Jeanne Lewe, Peggy Rowe, Mary Jane Huber, and Beth Winters. Their work is an actual realization of the mental picture the word vacation forms. They will instruct young campers in swimming, horseback riding and various sports, and we can be sure, have a marvelous time themselves. Lucky Gail Lonnenman plans to spend her summer working at a dude ranch in Michigan.

Other outdoors-minded students include Dorothea Brodbeck, Mary Ann Curtin, Arlene Dulle and Barbara Morrissey. These girls will assist on playgrounds throughout the city.

One of the students will be going home, a fact not unusual in itself, but who wouldn't say that going to Ecuador isn't a vacation and a half? This lucky young lady is, of course, Sylvia Monge.

No matter how or where it may be spent, we know you are looking forward to your vacation just as much. Have a grand one!

Kay Wetzel '56 Edits Edgecliff

Kay Wetzel, junior English major, will head the staff of The Edgecliff for next year as editor-in-chief. The new editor has been a member of The Edgecliff staff for three years, holding the position of associate editor during the current school year.

While at Villa Madonna academy, Kay served as co-editor of the school paper and annual. At Our Lady of Cincinnati she has been active in the Edgecliff Players, Choral club, Literary Guild, Saddlemates club, Liturgy Committee and CSMC. She has also represented her class twice on the editorial board of the Literary Annual.

Biology Student Receives Trophy

Marion Glandorf, senior Biology major, was presented with an inscribed Rookwood trophy for her independent research in the field of biochemistry. The award was made by Sister M. Honora, R.S.M., of the department of Chemistry and a graduate of the Institutum Divi Thomae.

Marion, along with two juniors, Mary Ellen Puthoff and Marian Piller, took part in the Eastern College Science Conference at Seton Hall university, South Orange, New Jersey, Apr. 14, 15 and 16. These girls reported on the independent research they have been conducting in the field of biochemistry under the direction of Sister M. Winifred and Sister M. Honora, who also attended the Conference.

"Bactericidal Potency of Some Organic Mercury Compounds" was the topic of Marion's paper. Mary Ellen explained the "Preparation, Analysis and Assay of an Extract of Aloe Vera" and Marian discussed "Viruses: Their Origin and Nature."

'54 Grad Stars On TV Show

Edgecliff now has two of its graduates employed in the ranks of local television station personnel. The first to appear before the cameras was Lorraine Pohlcamp, (Sis Camp), who stars on the Paul Dixon Show on WLW-T. Dolores Donovan '54 is the newest Edgecliff contribution to the TV world.

As of May 16, Dolores, now Mrs. James M. Hogan, appears daily on the Uncle Al Lewis Show. On this program, designed to entertain the children of the family, she appears as "Princess Twinkle," Uncle Al's assistant. She sings, tells stories and dances for the children present in the studio and for the viewers at home. The program is aired daily, Monday through Friday on WCPO-TV from nine to 10:00 and 11:00 to 12:00, and on Saturday from nine to 10:00 a.m.

While at Edgecliff, Dolores was active in the Edgecliff Players and Debaters, Literary Guild, the Music, Saddlemates and Classical clubs. She was also art editor and drama columnist for The Edgecliff.

NEW HISTORY PROFESSOR
Mr. Vincent Delaney, of St. Louis university, will be added to the History department faculty next year.

Dolores Donovan
